

KLEW-TV
July 2008 – September 2008

1. The Need to Address Recreational Activities for Youth.
2. The Need to Address Public Transportation.
3. The Need to Address Employment/Business Opportunities.
4. The Need to Address Gas & Energy Price Increases.
5. The Need to Address Inexpensive Medical Care.

Janet Danley, Walla Walla Community College Director of the Clarkston Center, was interviewed on 7/24/08.

Jeannine Ferguson, Idaho Legal Aid Services Managing Attorney, was interviewed on 7/10/08.

Chuck Whitman, The Idaho Foodbank Director of Northern Idaho Services, was interviewed on 7/8/08.

Kellye Sharp, Idaho Commerce & Labor Manager, was interviewed on 7/9/08.

Rodney Kanikkeberg, Northwest Children's Home, Inc. Director of Residential Services, was interviewed on 8/7/08.

KLEW-TV
Issues/Programs List
July 2008 – September 2008

The Need to Address Recreational Activities for Youth

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/1/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:21

Description: KLEW News reported that at Moscow Junior High School there were a number of kids on the field for the two-day Moscow United Soccer Club Striker/Keeper clinic. Jared Vreeland, clinic coach says its part of a series of camps, meant to hone in on the specific skills of each footballer. Soccer in the Quad-Cities and around the world is growing.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/7/08, 5:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:18

Description: KLEW News reported that 5th through 8th grade girls were swarming the floor at the Lewis-Clark State College for the intermediate Volleyball Camp Series. Warrior Head Coach and Camp Director Jen Greeny explains it's more of an all-skills camp, really focusing on all the skills, as opposed to a positional camp. It's important to see the fundamental for all the positions at this age. The high school kids come later in the week where Greeny and her assistants take the camp one step further.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/10/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:22

Description: KLEW News reported Junior Golf Camp for the valley youth was held in Clarkston at Quail Ridge Golf Course. The three-day course was to get kids interested in the game of golf. Assistant Pro and Asotin High School golf coach Chris Sevy taught them the basics on club swinging, and how to chip and putt. With these camps for a lot of kids this is the first time they have ever played golf or even been out to a golf course. This junior golf lesson is just one of three this summer. Sevy says they will do another lesson with kids even younger and wrap up the summer with an advanced camp.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/14/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:15

Description: KLEW News reported that at the Lewis-Clark State women's basketball team is holding a 4 and a half-day camp for 80 junior high and high school students. Lewis-Clark head coach Brian Orr is teaching fundamentals and then we back that up with great competitions. In addition to teaching fundamentals, Coach Orr ensures the campers have the correct mind set when playing the game.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/17/08, 5:00 p.m.

Duration: 0:49

Description: KLEW News reported that The Lewiston Gun Club has over 200 members who enjoy a variety of shooting and the club holds several events throughout the year. Alyse Cadez, 4H scattershots leader, is looking for kids ages 9 to 18 to join the club. Plenty of more knowledgeable shooters at the range adds to the experience and makes for a family friendly atmosphere.

The Need to Address Public Transportation

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/18/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:34

Description: KLEW News reported that Idaho's Transportation Department held a public meeting last night in Lewiston as part of their statewide Funding Conference. Pamela Lowe, Idaho Transportation Director says the group is aware that the infrastructure of roads and bridges are falling apart. One possible idea is to raise the gas tax and look at mass transit development. Lowe is convinced that mass transit in Idaho would play a huge role by using busses, vans, carpools and ride sharing.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/22/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:58

Description: KLEW News reported that the Lewiston City Council approved the use of $20,000 for 2 Dial-A-Ride buses to match $85,000 worth of federal grant money. City officials say the first step in getting the system under city management is to expand the fleet. City Manager Jay Krauss says by owning and managing the system the city will be in a better position to control costs.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 8/14/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:19

Description: KLEW News reported that Valley Transit bus system and the City of Lewiston continue discussing the possibility of the city taking over control of services. Councilors approved in a work session the use of $20,000 toward two Dial-A-Ride buses, in hopes of creating a city fleet. City Manager Jay Krauss believes Lewiston would be in a better position to control costs associated with the service.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 9/5/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:35

Description: KLEW News reported that Asotin County Commission Chair Doug Mattoon says the Asotin County Public Transportation Benefit Area, or P.T.B.A. has expanded service in Asotin County to get residents up to Pullman. There's a great deal of demand that will benefit the community at large. Seventy-Five percent of the money for the new decade vans comes from federal gas tax dollars. The rest is covered by a local transit sales tax approved by voters three years ago.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 9/17/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:12

Description: KLEW News reported that Moscow City Mayor Nancy Chaney is looking at the two new bus shelters, dedicated today, as a great prospect for expanding Moscow Valley Transit service. The service is not just for students and academic community, but the community as a whole. Moscow Valley Transit has been regularly setting ridership records at a time when fuel costs are great and dollars are hard to come by. Moscow is looking at alternative modes of transportation as a way to protect the environment.

The Need to Address Employment/Business Opportunities

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 9/4/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:08

Description: KLEW News reported that Port of Clarkston Commissioners discussed the possibility of acquiring a piece of land at 15th and Bridge for a Visitor's Center. Also on the agenda, Waterfront Master Planning and how they would work with other jurisdictions to accomplish goals. The commissioners approved extending a current contract with Progressive Engineering to March of 2009, to complete a feasibility study and preliminary site development for the potential industrial park.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 9/15/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:33

Description: KLEW News reported that the National Science Foundation gave the University of Idaho the largest grant ever given to the state. As a result of that grant, Idaho universities can now help fight the effects of climate change. Last week Lieutenant Governor Jim Risch announced Fifteen million dollars would go to University of Idaho, Idaho State and Boise State University. Jack McIver, Vice President for research says the money will go toward ten new faculty members and new research equipment.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 9/22/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 0:33

Description: KLEW News reported that Washington State University has received a three point six million dollar grant to find ways to increase the number of women faculty in science, technology, engineering and mathematics departments. The five-year grant from the National Science Foundation will be used to develop new strategies for faculty recruitment, retention and advancement at schools all over the country.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 9/26/08, 5:00 p.m.

Duration: 0:51

Description: KLEW News reported that the groundbreaking for the Clarkston Super Wal-Mart may be just weeks away. According to City of Clarkston Building Inspector Jim Braddock, plans for the box store have been reviewed and accepted and all the permits with the city are in place. The building will be 187 thousand square feet with a tire and lube center, a pharmacy, garden center, nail salon and Subway sandwich shop. There will also be 3 lots of about an acre that will be sublet.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 9/30/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:27

Description: KLEW News reported that the new name for The Palouse Economic Development Council is The Southeast Washington Economic Development Association. Kathy Parker Executive Director wants to make sure that communities are prepared to be able to accommodate new businesses looking to relocate. They also want to help existing businesses grow and make sure that they have a way to keep their doors open and continue to grow.

The Need to Address Gas & Energy Price Increases

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/2/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 0:29

Description: KLEW News reported that Oregon State University students built a car that runs strictly on solar energy. The vehicle took three years and $50,000 to build and will compete in the World Solar Challenge race from Texas to Canada. The team of students has reached a speed of 30 miles per hour, but believe the car can go 65 miles per hour.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 7/8/08, 5:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:22

Description: Money Watch from Wall Street reported that Texas oilman T. Boone Pickens says he can solve America's dependence on foreign oil. He's funding a giant campaign to focus the United States on developing renewable energy resources. He plans to build an enormous wind farm stretching from Texas to the North. He is ready to invest his own billions in the project.

Date/Time: 8/7/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:58

Description: KLEW News reported that Governor Chris Gregoire's memo asked state-run entities to cut down on energy consumption. In May, Washington State University Department heads and managers were encouraged to institute a 4 day 10 hour workweek. That was an effort to cut down on gasoline consumption and commuting by employees. Washington State University has achieved about a 5 percent reduction in energy consumption.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 8/12/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 1:50

Description: KLEW News reported that Idaho's Lieutenant Governor Jim Risch, like other Americans, is nervous about the economy and has strong feelings about high gas prices. Lieutenant Governor Risch says nuclear power has to be a part of developing alternative energy in the long term.

Program: KLEW-TV News
Date/Time: 8/22/08, 5:00 p.m.
Duration: 2:00

Description: Consumer Reports reported that the Honda Civic N-G-V is a natural-gas-powered car, currently sold in New York and California. Consumer Reports says there are environmental advantages to natural gas. With a four-cylinder engine running on natural gas, it's 75 percent cleaner than a normal gasoline-powered car. The natural gas civic gets thirty miles per gallon on its compressed natural gas.

The Need to Address Affordable Medical Care

Date/Time: 7/30/08, 6:00 p.m.
Duration: 1:41

Description: KLEW News reported that United States Senate Candidate Larry LaRocco announced his plans for Veterans Health Care at the State Veterans Home in Lewiston. LaRocco is supporting a 3 billion dollar increase in funding for veterans and will focus on three main areas. Traumatic brain injuries, post traumatic stress disorder and the rising suicide rate among veterans.

Program: KLEW-TV News
Date/Time: 8/7/08, 6:00 p.m.
Duration: 1:32

Description: KLEW News reported that Idaho's Project Filter is offering free nicotine replacement to Idaho residents who are interested in quitting smoking or quitting using chewing tobacco. Heidi Henson Health Promotion Coordinator says Idaho's Millennium Fund is paying for the efforts that began July 1st and will last through the end of June next year. So if people call 1-800-quit-now, which is Idaho's quit line, they can register to receive a four-week supply of the nicotine patch, nicotine gum, or the nicotine lozenge.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Program: KLEW-TV News
Date/Time: 8/11/08, 6:00 p.m.
Duration: 0:36

Description: KLEW News reported that Nez Perce tribal officials told their concerns to a delegation from the United States Department of Health and Human Services and the United States House Appropriations Committee of diminishing funds they have left for the Nimiipuu Health Care clinic. Tribal officials say funding constraints have kept the dental office at the clinic understaffed and the clinic applies for grants to make up for tight budgets.

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 8/1/08, 7:25 a.m.

Duration: 5:00

Description: Northwest Morning with host Robin Spooner interviewed volunteers Barb Kramer and Barbara Cox with (SHIBA) The Senior Health Insurance Benefits Assistance program. Sponsored by Medicare, Medicaid and State Department Insurance help seniors with enrollment, technicality issues and what you are entitled to. The advocates will help select a plan or alternative plan and keep you updated on providers' changes and prescription drug coverage

Program: KLEW-TV News

Date/Time: 8/29/08, 6:00 p.m.

Duration: 0:22

Description: KLEW News reported that a seminar on Medicare benefits was held this morning at the Lewiston Community Center. The event taught people what Medicare covers. Hospice care, serious illnesses and Medicare Part B were part of the presentation. The seminar was held to help people understand their rights under the insurance coverage as well as the timeline that needs to be followed.